

Four Corners Brookfield Town Center Revitalization Plan

BROOKFIELD FOUR CORNERS-TOWN CENTER DISTRICT PLAN

Steering Committee

The Steering Committee has been composed of individuals who know Brookfield well from a variety of angles, but who have no personal stake in the outcome of the plan.

There are many people who have a personal interest in how the Four Corners develops either as property owners, business owners or residents of the area. Their input is vital to creating a realistic plan. There will be opportunities to provide this input through participation in the online survey or best of all, participation in the four day hands-on planning workshop to be held May 7-10.

Steering Committee members will offer information and expertise about local conditions and issues, brainstorm with the project team on solutions, and review and comment on study products. Steering committee members will act as liaisons to the community about the study and support the consensus of this group within the community.
